Christmas: Santa & Sharing

Preschool-Kindergarten | Imaginative Santa fun | Adult help welcome

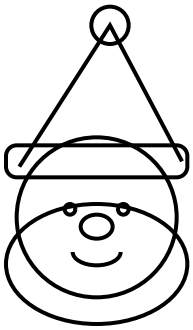

Name: _____ Date: _____

1. Count Santa's presents. Write or say the number.

Total: ____

2. Color Santa. Plan a kind surprise.

A kind surprise does not need to cost money! Draw yours below.

3. Finish the pattern. Draw what comes next.

hat gift hat gift hat _____

4. Circle the kind choices.

Take turns. Leave someone out.

Share supplies. Thank a helper.

Kindness is a gift everyone can give.

Christmas: The Kindness Case

Grades 1-5 | Seasonal reading, math, and writing | No religious content

Name: _____ Date: _____

1. Solve the case of the missing invitation.

A class is planning a winter craft afternoon. Alex says their family does not celebrate Christmas. Sam wants everyone to feel welcome. Suggest a kind response and a winter activity the whole class could choose.

_____

_____

_____

2. Santa's workshop math

A. 9 toy trains + 6 toy trains = _____ toy trains

B. 20 gift tags - 8 gift tags = _____ gift tags

Challenge: 24 crayons shared equally in 4 cups = _____ per cup

3. A gift that costs nothing

Plan a kind act: a note, a helping hand, or time with someone.

I can _____

This could help because _____

_____

_____

Optional: draw a winter scene on the back, or write a story about Santa.

Christmas: Grown-Up Guide

Answer key and simple teaching ideas | Santa is an imaginative seasonal character.

Name: _____ Date: _____

PAGE 1 | Santa & Sharing

1. Six presents.
2. Personal answers; a kind act can be free.
3. Gift.
4. Take turns; share supplies; thank a helper.

PAGE 2 | The Kindness Case

1. Accept respectful responses and inclusive winter activities.

Example: "You are welcome. We could make paper snowflakes."

2. A: 15 toy trains. B: 12 gift tags. Challenge: 6 crayons per cup.
3. Personal answer describing a safe, thoughtful act.

MAKE IT WORK FOR YOUR LEARNERS

Read aloud, offer drawing choices, or use counters for the math.

Present Santa as an imaginative character; do not require belief.

Children can choose winter pictures instead of Santa activities.

Avoid asking children to compare presents or family spending.

This pack uses Santa, gifts, winter crafts, and everyday kindness.

It contains no Bible stories, religious lessons, or worship activities.